Millmen Will Not Submit to Decision by Arbitration.

FALL RIVEE, Mass, Oct. 23 The mills made no headway to-day toward the resumption of work on their icoms. The weaver made no demonstration to-day but held a meeting for the purpose of outlining the route of the procession for to-morrow. The millmen held an informal meeting this morning but reached no conclusion as to the course to be pursued. There is a feeling among those who are close to them that they will not submit to a decision arrived at by any board of arbitration for the present at least. Some of their are ready to shut down Thursday and are ready to shut down Thursday and are ready to shut down Thursday and are ready to wote that all the mills in the agroement shut down until the reduced scale of wages is enforced, or will be accepted by the weavers. Secretary Whitehead says he is willing to submit the weavers case to arbitration.

The resistance of the weavers is growing in strength hourly. This afternoon the Shoye Mill weavers held a meeting and voted not to return to work. One thousand booms were left fidle in constiquence and the mill has been shut down at noon for an indefinite period Other mills are expected to close to-night Weavers will uppoint a committee on conference to-night and they will ask again for a hearing from manufacturers

A CLEVER SCHEME,

By Which Japanese Paupers Pas Into This Country,

Estimated That 500 Have Entered This Year.

Pour Townsend, Wash, Oct 23 The customs and immigration officials here yesterday; discovered a scheme whereby it is estimated 300 pauger Japanese have been admitted this year. The only restriction that the immigration law imposes is that each applicant for admission shall possess thirty dollars. It now develops that when a party of pauper Japanese arrives in Victoria it 14 met there by an agent from this side. lars. It now develops that when a party of punper Japanese arrives in Victoria at 144 met there by an agent from this side who supplies each with $30 and a ticket into this country. I pon arriving here the Japanese are taken to the custom house, examined, and as each has the regulative amount he is passed. Before starting for interior points the money is refunded to the agent who crosses the line again to await another batch. The discovery of the scheme is second only to that made during the term of ex-folictor Wasson, when a party of twenty-seven Japanese applied for admission. They were lined up in the hallway outside the collector's office, and called in and examined separately, each had $40 when examined and withdrew. As inspector saw one giving the money to another and suspecting fraud he had the entire party taken before the collector, resulting in the discovery that there was but $30 among the whole crowd. As a ronsequence all but one were sent back to Victoria where the agents evidently concorted the scheme recently unparthed.

MEDAL OF HONOR LEGION

To His Religion

To His Religion
I am delighted, for the honor of the church I represent that the sons of that church are here in full proportion, wearing America's medal of valor and of honor. The population of America is most complex. Men have come to her from ever other land; her entirens differ in religious professions. This is the fact and the country accepts it. She did minds that all who live on her soil and are producted by her flag, be Americans, and she cannot do less than demand this. Beyond this the proclaims the sacred right of liberty. The individual who does not in his own name and from his own heart proclaim his right of liberty for his fellow clitzen, is no True Son of America. True Son of America

A Portland jeweller one day lust week received a consignment of unmounted diamonds worth several hundred deliars. diamonds worth several hundred dollars. He was examining them when a customer came in, so he wrapped them in a piece of paper, doing the bundle up loosely and put them in a tray of watch chains in his show case. He didn't think of the diamonds again until the mext morning and when he went to look for them they were gone. Perhaps there wasn't any hustling around that store for awhile. A boy was dispatched to sort over the barrel whore the sweepings had been deposited, but as the owner of the store stoped to sort over the waste basket a small piece of paper projecting from the crack under the counter raught his eye. He pulled at it and out came the little paper package and the diamonds. The clerk had seen it on the tray, thought it was wastel paper and had thrown it in the direction of the waste basket.

The Winslow Board of Health have pionship.

The Winslow Beard of Health have just had a case which puzzles them not a little. Two weeks ago a case of what was reported to the board of health as diphtherla appeared in a family by the name of Page, living on what is known as "Sand hall" Investigations were made and the family quaranthed by their orders, the usual forms being gone through. The member of the family sick was a woman, and two men, who were also of the family, worked in the Lockwood mills, and continued to do so, although a second visit was made by a mamber of the health bourd, who insisted they should not. This had no effect and then the agent of the mills was sean and he promptly discharged the men until the health officers thought it safe for them to return to work. Here comes that the health officer of Winslow was not the attending physician at the Pages, and the doctor who was, informed the men and his patient that the disease was not diphtheria at all. The health officers thereupon sought legal advice and requested the aid of an officer to compet the carrying out of their orders, but to their surprise, the lawyer informed them that there was nothing whatsoever they could do, for if the attending physician in the case says it is not the disease supposed, that ends the matter. The next move of the health officers was to inform Dr. Young, of the State Board of Health, and in due time he ulso appeared on the seene, but he could not move a finger—there was the law to look at and that was alt.

The Japanese Diet Concludes Its Board of Health Puzzled not a It will be Interesting to the Profession and the Public.

Out.

We learn from the Reporter of Decisions that volume eighty-six of Maine Reports, now in the bindery, will be ready for delivery early next month. From the advanced sheets, which we have seen, it appears that the volume will prove highly interesting, both to the profession and the public. It conand eareful investigation by the court, as well as the importance of the principles involved, will become landmarks in the Jurisprudence of the State The volume opens with an opinion by Judge Walton, who makes it clear what the owner of land under a quitclaim deed, purporting to convey only the grantor's right, title and interest, must do to prove his title besides a mere exhibit of his deed. He must prove possession by his grantor. The distingtion between the practice of American and Inglish courts as to the kind of posession, whether actual or coustructive, and the cause of the change o the rule in this country from the old common law is stated and explained by Rallroad Company in which the plain tiff was mortally injured by a defectly dump car falling over upon him For the injuries thus received the jury gave the plaintiff a verifice of $3,000. The verdict was sustained after bring reduced to $5,000 The case turned largely on the question whether Welch, who was employed on the gravel train ingaged in filling up and grading land of an adjoin ing owher, and assisted in dumping this cur in charge of the relicond was an intruder or volunteer for whose in puries the railroad is not liable. The opinion holds that he was not a volunteer, bu being interested as a servant of the land owner in expediting his work, is not deprived of his right of protection ngainst the curelessue-s of the servants of the rallroad can and English cases, and will be here ofter known as a much considered case and will be often quoted in questions o damages, as the court reduced the verdic to the same amount allowed against corporations, where death is instanta neous Able jurists contend that the measure of damages in such cases as this should never exceed the amount allowed where instant death ensues, and legislation in several brates will doubtless be asked to fix the rule by statute Everyone may cut ice below the line of low water mark, upon public rivers and ponds, as a public right, but this right does not exist above the line of low water. Hence, ice companies may not deposit snow, scraped from their ice. upon the flats of an idjoining owner without his consent | Judge Walton so holds in McFadden vs. Ice (ompany and, in the absence of legislation on the business, which the late Judge Virgin once pointedly commented upon, makes clear one question which had not been before decided. To appreciate fally this Interesting decision, our readers will have to go back over two and a hilf centuries and study the colonial Ordinance of 1647, which lies at the foundation of riparian rights and is in full force Like nearly all his opinions, ludge Walton compresses his devision into a single page and leaves nothing more to be desired in the statement of the law Chief Justice Peters has his usual number of readable opinions touching about nearly all the branches of law Some of the notable cases are Williamson v Lacy, exhibiting the grounds of immunity of judicial officers and holding that trials should be open to the public Fox v. Gibbs, deciding that, in the Walker will, a biquest to trustees for penevolent and charitable purposes in not void for uncertainty. In his clear style the judge says, "The purposes are to be both benevolent and charltable and not benevolent, or liberal, or gener ous, merely "-a statement of the law in stockholder is not cutified to interest cither on dividends, or money due on a

In the case the (blef Justice, making a positive addition to the law holds that hecause of a conversation several years fact and did not appear to have had actual remembrance of it when he subsequently made the attachment. Actual notice requires actual remembrance. "If equity lends her forms of procedure to effectuate the peculiar provisions of the statute in these cases, she should be ac corded the privilege of applying her rules of pleading in order to obtain equitable and just results " So says the chief Justice in Hathorn v Kelley, flowage case that made its first appear ance in the court sixty-three years ago, when Mellen, Weston and Parris con prised the law court. In this case damages by flowage were claimed for twenty years, but the plaintiff under the occullar circumstances of his laches, wa restricted to six years. The book closes with his admirable eulogy of Judge Libbey, which has alrendy appeared in our columns, and gives that able and honest jurist, so the annals of the court.

Romarks of Arch Bishop Ireland at a Banquet

a Banquet

Ni Wiork, Oct. 23 Last evening's session of the Medal of Honor Ligion was followed by a banquet. Arch Bishop Ireland, who was a guest, was called upon for a speech. In the course of his remarks the Arch Bishop said. As I cast my eyes over this notable gathering I remark in it a feature which is singularly characteristic of America and American patriolism you, the bravest of America's brave defenders, are men of different races and different religious credits, and, permit me to sai, on dassant, that although when I seek and a cet a true American I put no question as

In increased trade with northern Mexico, the American Consul at Matanoras reporting to the State department that a large exportation of hides and mules, horses, etc., have been added to the usual exports and that the prospects for greatly increased commerce are very good. Under the McKinley law no live stock was exported, the tariff on horses and mules being $40 each and that amount being from twice to three times the selling value of the animals in Mexico. This was totally prohibitory and until thirty days ago not a live atimal of any description had entered the United States from Mexico.

IRON HALL The First Ceneral Report of Re-ceiver Faley. celver Faley.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 23. The first general report and account encrent of James F Faley as permanent receiver of the Order of the Iron fiall was filed yesterday. The general statement of the receiver is very long. This is the first step of the several that will be taken by John Winters to wind up the order's affairs within the next ten days. There remain in Itigation only two phases of the trust. One is the life division and the other is the payment of matured certificates that were unual.

Peanut Politics The New York World continues to express its diagust with the peanut politics naugurated in the Empire State by Sec retary Carlisle. In an editorial it salvs retary Carlisle. In an editorial it says It is Mr. Carlisle's duty to order the release of the coachman Howard without delay and without any further legal quibbles.

Even if Howard's arrest had been legal it would have been an exhibition of mean, petty and contemptible politics, because it was an attempt to twist the law so as to east discredit upon a dandidate for high office. Such chiap demagogic tricks are to be expected during campaigns from the baset sort of small politicians, but it is a peblic disgrace when one of the highest officers of the Government, a member of, the President's Cabinet, lends himself to them.

But Mr. Carlisle knows now that the

"The wheel man insurer; the notist man does not. It seems you must for the working man does not. It seems you must for the working man of America chart each a ministration large process they produced mon state; bytes. But now to must fine jub. The wheels must be the compact of them to scenario a policy myres though by well and there is scenario a policy myres though we work to the most of the most o resident's Cabinet, iends biquelly to them.

But Mr. Carlisle knows now that the arrest has not even the excuse that it was legal. Judge Lacombe's liceisjon is that Howard was employed by Mr. Morton "strictly as a personal of donestic servant." It follows that neldher Mr. Morton nor Howard has violated the liw. The real lawbrenker is Secretary Carlisle, and Howard is the victim of a lawless, arbitrary and tyrapnical exercise of official polyer.

In the name, of American liberty, which has been grossly outragid, the World demunds the immediate release from Ellis Island of the, English conchman unjustify imprisoned there.

SUICIDE OF BANGOR MAN.

Charles O. Maddocks Found Dead at Home Tuesday Morning.

People were surprised and shocked yesterday to learn that Charles O. Maddocks, who was well known about town, had been found dead in bed at his home on Brown street and that his death was the result of his own act, he having shot himself through the head during the night. Mr. Maddocks lived with his step-mother, willow of Mr. Otls D. Maddocks, and her daughter Betveen 11 and 12 o'clock Monday night Mrs. Maddocks heard a noise which she thought was that of a gun or revolver and she started to investigate the matter She aroused her daughter, who said she had heard nothing and that her mother must be relataken as she did not sleep heavily and would have been likely to have heard any noise

Hearing no further noise Mrs Maddocks finally retired but her mind was oppressed by dread. Yesterday morning the thought of the noise recurred vividly to her mind and as Charles did not ap pear at 8 o'clock Mrs. Muddocks' daughter went to his room. States, so renders it. Judge Emery furnishes three ong The opinions which are exhaustive first is Warren v. Westbrook Mfg Co, in which the reputation of the Maine bench is sustained for its ability in questions of water and water courses It is a case where there are two untural channels in the Presumpscot river, made by an island at Saccarappa Upper Falls, and the plaintiff sought for a partition and division of the water between himself and the defendant company as riparian owners. But the court holds that the inequality in the flow of the certain money and one silver watch and water is decreed by nature, and human courts are powerless to correct it Another is Mississippi & Domina S. Co v Swift, giving an interesting

Judge Emery, courteously conceding the help derived from the research of many cases by the counsel holds that no contract was actually perfected. To the business man ence between a contract and an agreement to contract, but we think the plaintiff in this case will not fail to appreciate the legal distinction, notwithtanding the voluminous correspondence and telegrams that passed between he bills of exception and gives the history and practice regulating them in Ameriean and Luglish courts and recalls how under our statutes, they have been much are cautioned not to indulge any more in the loose manner of drawing then ex ceptions which has lately prevailed, and the opinion will be useful as a guide to those who seek to follow its admonstlyn The much contested case of the Eastern the opinion, and has been published by us, appears also in the volume with its nunclation of equity law now become a large part of the business of the court.

Judge Foster contributes four opinions to the law of negligence. One, that of Mundle v. Hill Manufacturing Co , presents the clear distinction which exists between assuming usks of an employment by a servant and his contributory negligence, and founded as they dre upon essentially different principles. Personal injury cases are growing more frequent, arising in part from inprovements and inventions in the use of steam and electricity, as well as the advance of civilization, and the legal fra ternity scize upon all modern decisions when like this erse, the opinion is strong and conclusive In another case, Lee v McI rughlio. his opinion discusses the decisions reliat ing to the liability of landlords and ten ants to the triveler who gets injured by M the cars run from 5.30 A M to snow falling from the roof upon him. 10 30 a. w., and on evenings when there | He sust one the generally received rule. are attractions at the Opera House in | that the landloid is not liable when he Bangor will wait at the upper end until has parted with the control of the cathe building to the tenant

The law hates four | and receives a vigorous application of this principle by the judge in Jones v. Hight, a case of fenudulent convictance. His analysis of the testimony makes one think of what used to be said of Judge Whitman—'He could smell froud, to the terror of all evil doers " The longest case in the book and one that will be read for its novelty and Judge Haskell The question which came up here for consideration is one ourely of law-the right to show, by cross examination of the witness himself,-that his mird is unsound, and this right is sustained by the court. The reasoning in the opinion is philosophic and original An important addition to the law of bankruptcy and insolvency is the opinion by the same judge in Milliken v Morey, growing out of a preference by the Denison Paner to at the tune of say his associates, although one dissents on a tolt teral question, and it settles the true legal defluition of the term

"insolvency" which bas a popular, as well as legal meaning. The opinion adheres to the latter, holding that it is an hability to meet maturing demands in the ordinary course of business, and not the former, by which is meant an usufficiency of assets to pay all one's debts in winding up business

All the cases, which fell to Judge Haskell to write the opinions, are unusually interesting to their diversity and character. He decides that the legislature may regulate tolls of griet mills, establishes the rule of liability on reple-vin bonds, when the plaintiff is honsuited, the practice being confused by older cases, declines to havoke the equity powers of the court in nulsances when the legislature has given ample remedy by suits at law; and makes easy to be understood what are the rights of parties to after acquired property under chattel mortgages. In Deering vs Moore it not sign his bond, although his sureties did, but he went on with his duties and appeared that the collector of taxes did collected the city's money. His opinion plainly comonstrates, rather to the edrprise of most lawyers who now admit its soundness, that his liability for the the same as if he had signed the bong-The court decides for the first time in
